

ABSTRACT

An injection pressure regulator testing system has a sleeve, a pressure source, and a power supply. The injection pressure regulator is inserted into a test chamber formed by the sleeve. The power source activates the injection pressure regulator for operation at a selected pressure level. The pressure source pumps hydraulic fluid into the test chamber. A determination is made as to whether the injection pressure regulator can achieve a selected pressure level.